All kinds of books, briefs, catalogues, etc., printed in the best style and on short notice. We ask the patronage of Democrats, and all others that want printing done.

M. Local notices of five lines and under will be charged at 50 cents; each additional insertion of the same matter, 25 cents; marriage notices, 50 cents; funeral notices, $1; pay required in advance. CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

The Supreme Court will convene next Monday.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows adjourned yesterday evening.

For fresh Baltimore Oysters, raw, stewed or fried, go to Cunningham's on Illinois street, opposite the Governor's mansion.

For improved property in good neighborhood, that will rent for ten per cent. clear on the investment, apply to Frank Smith, Real Estate Agent.

The State Medical Society adjourned yesterday evening after a very interesting session of two days. There were several valuable papers read and a large amount of business transacted.

Christ Church is to be consecrated this morning, the services to commence at 10:30 o'clock. Right Rev. Bishop Updegraff, of this Diocese, and Bishop Talbot, of Nebraska, will be present and officiate.

Among the distinguished Old Fellows from abroad, on a visit to the Grand Lodge here, we notice E. J. Clancy and John C. C. of Cincinnati. They have long been connected with and favorably known by the order.

Ruptured.—Persons afflicted with Hernia or Rupture, should not fail to call on Dr. Selig, now stopping for a few days at the Bates House, and examine his Hand Rubber Truss. It cures rupture, and is the only truss known that does not rust, chafe, and become filthy from use.

We may look for a rise of the waters soon if it has been raining at other points as it has here for a day or two past. On river, Pogue's river, is getting on a tear, and we hope soon to hear of the Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee following suit.

Tax Collectors.—Upwards of seven thousand Collectors, Deputy Collectors, Assessors, and Assistant Assessors, are now in the city for collection of the internal revenue in the local States.

Judge Swaine, of the United States Circuit Court, in a decision at Cleveland, Ohio, held that the law prescribing penalties for the use of small notes or checks, to be used for currency, was illegal, and that consequently no prosecution could follow the issue of such notes.

Found.—In the neighborhood of the canal, a bundle of ladies' clothing, supposed to be stolen and secreted there. The owner can have them by calling at 143 South Meridian street, and paying for this notice.

An exchange agent at Gov. Wright is to be pronounced off with a Brazilian ship, as the hospital for men whose political constitutions are broken down. We presume the Governor will hardly look in the direction of the army. It lightens three divisions, and the Governor has a morbid dread of fire.

The Journal announces the arrival in this city of Ex Governor Wright. His bitterest speculations in Illinois did not pay, and he has returned to look for the "Knights of the Golden Circle." The Golden Circle of Public Plunder is the order he is desirous of finding. He will not stop until he gets in. That's what the matter.

The following is the list of the Grand Jurors of the United States District Court: David S. Gooding, Foreman; John Hendricks, Robert W. Henderson, John C. C. of Cincinnati, Samuel A. Bonner, John S. Reid, John Forshae, James Young, Michael B. Kerr, Hugh Hanna, Thomas Downing, Thomas N. Stilwell, Winburn B. Pierce, James Henderson, Frank H. Randall, Charles H. T. Jones, P. Lane.

Two magnificent sleeping cars, the Belvidere, running from Crestline to Indianapolis, on the route to St. Louis, Louisville, Cairo, and go West to-day, via the Pennsylvania railroad, and will be on exhibition during the day on Market street, near Eleventh. These cars are provided with state rooms; in which passengers can be perfectly secluded from the rest of the car. The panels between each window are filled with net mirrors, and the effect is most beautiful. The finish inside is beautiful wood, mahogany and ash, varnished, painted in beautiful colors. The cars are now running between Pittsburgh and Crestline. These cars were built at the shops of Joseph R. B. late Kimball & Gordon, Twenty-first and Hamilton streets—Philadelphia Press.

CHILD MURDERED BY HIS MOTHER.—A shocking murder of an interesting little girl by his mother occurred at Lebanon, Boone county, the other day. A widow lady with three children arrived there from Illinois, some weeks since, and went to live at the house of her mother-in-law. One of the children, a sprightly and interesting little girl, eight years of age, was taken by one of the neighbors to raise. The mother showed a good deal of feeling at parting with the child. A few evenings ago the little girl came to see her mother and to pass the night with her. In the morning the mother got up and came quietly into the family room and told those present she had killed her child; that she had strangled her shortly after retiring, and had then fled with the corpse in her arms. The marks of the fingers on the throat of the child were plainly visible. A coroner's jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

BUILDING NEXT YEAR.—From present indications there will be more building done in this city next year than in any previous year. There are several causes for this. One is the great demand for business rooms, and the high rent they command; another is the scarcity of dwelling houses; and a third is that building is considered a more secure place to put money, as an investment, than any other place where it will yield the same return. A great many of our citizens have ground, and they have the money to put buildings upon it, if they could get the materials. One thing may be in the way, and that is the difficulty of getting brick. If we are correctly informed, there is a very few brick now unburnt—not more than will be used this fall. If builders have to depend on the present brick yards for a supply, it may throw the work into the summer before a good supply can be obtained. It seems to us this pressing want, for the improvement of our city, should be obviated, and greatly increased preparations made to supply all demands. Our brick men should look to this, and prepare to furnish all the brick that may be required. Let no obstacle be in the way of the improvement of our city.

TRIAL FOR TREASON.—One of the parties charged with treason, for alleged participation in the Newburg (Warren county) affair, was put on trial yesterday in the United States District Court. The names of the others to be tried on similar charges are: Jesse Fuller, William Hake, Thomas Cole, William Brownlee and John Hout.

To-night will be presented Buckstone's splendid drama of the Huntress of the Mississippi. Miss T. Clair personating the wild huntress, Miami and Madam St. Aubert, in both of which upon a former occasion she made a great impression. Miss T. Clair will be ably assisted by Miss Marion Macarty, who, as Nellie O'Neil, will sing some of her choicest ballads; while Felix A. Vincent, as Wild Marston, will give us a duologue of the beauties of Donnybrook Fair.

BRILLIANT DASH OF GENERAL SIGEL'S BODY GUARD.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, writing from Gainesville, under date of Nov. 11th, gives the following account of a brilliant cavalry charge into Frederickburg:

"Every one who has been yesterday morning by rumor that the whole of General Sigel's body guard had been captured by the rebels at Frederickburg, and that this had been occasioned by the treachery of a scout. This caused the utmost excitement and dejection. Later in the day news of a different character was received, which quite changed the aspect of affairs."

"General Sigel's body guard was safe—not a man of it captured, but they were in Frederickburg, had a severe fight and captured a large number of the enemy."

"To give a somewhat detailed statement of the affair, we will begin with the starting of the expedition. It left here on Saturday morning, numbering sixty-four men. Captain Dahlgren, Chief of the Staff, commanded the party. Capt. Shera and Lieut. Miller and Carr, of the 1st Indiana cavalry, accompanied the expedition. They moved on to Warren and reached there about noon, and were joined by ninety men of the 6th Ohio cavalry. Together they proceeded through the forests until they reached Stanford Court House, where they remained over night."

"On the morning of the 11th, the rebels were not so sudden that the rebel troops stationed there were taken completely by surprise. Sent there throughout the town of Frederickburg, 500 Confederate soldiers, the most of whom were cavalrymen. The rebels were unable to gather their forces together immediately, and this was a slight advantage for our men. They at once attacked all the enemy that they met. A brisk fight immediately ensued. The rebels were terrified at the sight of the 'Knights of the Golden Circle' and partially fled to scatter them for a time."

"They returned strongly reinforced from the stragglers and pickets who were outside of the town, and who at once commenced the hostilities. Our men were not so completely hemmed in, without an apparent avenue to escape through. With their sabres they fought bravely, and after about half an hour's combat, they succeeded in cutting their way through the enemy. There was but one of our men killed and another wounded. The latter was shot shortly after he had captured a section flag."

"The rebels were then killed and a great number wounded. Thirty-nine prisoners were taken. All of these, with the exception of six, who were paroled on the spot where taken, were brought in here. The citizens were very active in taking care of the wounded. One man was wounded, and were no less active in making him feel their malignity toward our men."

"When pressing buildings, various kinds of requisites were buried at night. Colonel Bull's 13th Indiana cavalry was the most active in opposing our men. The rebels showed very little bravery. They set out very cowardly after they found out the determination of our men to fight. Although they outnumbered us in such great odds, they broke ranks and took to the woods. All the men and officers of Gen. Sigel who were in the engagement are deserving of more than ordinary credit. They a quiet themselves no more. Besides fighting and capturing the rebels, they took care of the wounded, and the wounded were taken to the hospital. A large number of horses were taken, and many small arms and sabres destroyed. This expedition, without doubt, effected one of the most glorious achievements of the present campaign."

"We are informed by a member of one of the companies engaged that the young man killed was Robert G. Open, of Terre Haute, who accompanied the expedition as a volunteer."

ARRIVAL HOME OF DR. HORTON.—Dr. Theodore Horton, who was basely torn from his family some weeks ago, and injured in a battle at Indianapolis, at the instigation of certain abolition enemies, whose charges were so false and utterly without foundation that the authorities felt compelled to liberate him, arrived at his home in Bluffton on Saturday evening. As soon as his presence was made known his Democratic fellow citizens turned out en masse to welcome him with a band of music and gave him a rousing address. Dr. Horton was delivered, and every demonstration made of joy at his deliverance and excretion of the joy of his fellow citizens who had been so long without him.

Next Saturday a public meeting will be held in Bluffton to give expression to the general feeling in relation to his arrest, and the course of the demonstration in proclaiming martial law, suspending the habeas corpus, and subjecting loyal citizens to arbitrary arrests and imprisonment.—Fort Wayne Sentinel.

PROFITS OF THE LATELY BUSINESS IN WAR TIMES.—We are informed that a recent examination by the State Commissioners of the books of John A. Morris & Co., Managers of the Shelby College and Delaware State Lottery, for the year ending on the 25th of October, 1892, discloses the fact that the people of the United States have during that time purchased from this firm lottery tickets to the enormous amount of $2,499,761.65; and also that the prizes have in the way, and that is the difficulty of getting back. If we are correctly informed, there is a very few brick now unburnt—not more than will be used this fall. If builders have to depend on the present brick yards for a supply, it may throw the work into the summer before a good supply can be obtained. It seems to us this pressing want, for the improvement of our city, should be obviated, and greatly increased preparations made to supply all demands. Our brick men should look to this, and prepare to furnish all the brick that may be required. Let no obstacle be in the way of the improvement of our city.

NOTICE.—Let writers say the lobby expects to do a large business this winter, on up to the year claims to come before Congress. This Congress will make hay whilst the sun is shining; it is the lobby that will be the sun. Let no obstacle be in the way of the improvement of our city.

Financial and Commercial Summary for the Past Week.

Nothing has transpired since our last to disturb the quiet in financial circles, which there has been a sunset at the close of the previous week. Gold, the great regulator, has changed but little. In another part of our paper will be found a memorial to Congress of some New York merchants, asking a new financial policy. shipped abroad within sixty days, and the proof of this falls on the purchaser. After the alcohol manufacturer has his alcohol ready for shipment, he cannot sell or transfer it to other hands, but the foreign shipment must be made in his own name. This embarrasses the trade a good deal, and the mode of transfer should be simplified by Congress this present winter, as it is of great importance to the agricultural people that every facility should be offered to encourage the export of spirits.

The grocery market is firm, and coffee is 2c higher. Sugar is also firmer. Tobacco has largely declined, and is dull. The St. Louis people, having got complete control of the lead market of the West, are jutting up the prices of lead and shot from week to week.
